Seek To Break Up Dynamiting of Fish

Richmond, June 38.- According to M. Wheeler Kesterson, Chief of the Law Enforcement Division of the Commission of Game and Inland Fisheries, the Commission is becoming concerned over the apparent increase in fish dynamiting in various areas of the state.

Mr. Kesterson said that while all game law violators are thieves in that they are stealing from the people of Virginia, the fish dynamiter is a particularly reprehensible law breaker. Dynamiting of the streams, the law enforcement chief pointed out, results in destruction not only of the adult fish, but also kills all the smaller fish that make up the major portion of the fish population and which in time would become the future adult population.

Because of this, a stream that has been dynamited repeatedly, as some Virginia streams are reported to have been, will be turned in a biological desert as far as a fish population is concerned and may remain so for years unless restocked by the Commission.

Restocking is not always successful in these cases either, it was further stated, because the ecological relationships in the stream may have been disturbed by the explosives and several years may pass before the stream is again in suitable condition to provide for fish life.

Because of the particularly evil effects of this type of poaching, game wardens have been instructed to spare no effort in apprehending violators. However, Mr. Kesterson further stated that the game warden has a large territory to cover and is not always able to catch the dynamiters in the act. He said that he would make a special request to all the people of the areas where fish dynamiting is being done, to cooperate with their local warden in stamping out this threat to the sport fishing of the Commonwealth.

The members of St. Ann's Church, Appomattox, are holding a Parish Conference this Saturday, July 1, ta make plans for the work of their church for the coming year. 2000 To Camp At Holliday This Summer

4-H Club Camp at Holliday Lake for Appomattox County 4-H'ers will be held this year from Monday, July 10 to Saturday, July 15. 4-H boys and girls from the county will attend this camp along with 4-H-er's, Extension Agents and leaders from Amherst, Buckingham, Cumberland and Prince Edward Counties.

4-H Camp at Holliday Lake opened this year on June 12 with State Conservation Camp the first of a series of summer camps conducted by the State Extension Service. Each year this camp with full facilities to accomodate almost 200 boys and girls enrolled in 4-H Club work in Virginia is conducted by the Extension personnel, leaders and parents to further the well-rounded development of the Rural Youth. Camp stresses the development of the Head, Heart, Hands, and Health, with special emphasis on healthful living.

Overlooking scenic Holliday Lake, the Camp was carefully picked and lies like a well planned city to the southern part of the lake. The rows of green and white cabins face one another across a spacious lawn of green which is lighted at nights by floodlights to allow the boys and girls to play games outside if they desire. One row of cabins is for boys and one row for girls; and every night at 10:00 o'clock the campers assemble on their respective sides and as all the lights are turned out, they sing "Taps" to one another across the green.

During the course of a summer, nearly 2,000 boys and girls mingle together, enjoying the fresh air, good meals provided by picked professional cooks, and participating in the healthful living of camp life. The camp, run by Extension personnel, is a non-profit business and the cost per member attending is less than $10.00 per week.

One of the most popular forms of recreation, of course, is swimming. Usually the campers are allowed plenty of time for this sport, for the leaders realize that swimming is probably the best exercise possible for the growing youth. The beach, sloping down from the cabins is one of the most beautiful in Virginia for the lake curves inward at this point in a perfect half circle and the beach itself is kept well supplied with pure white sand.

Other recreational activities include: softball, horse shoes, volley-ball and various games and contests, both in-doors and out-doors. Two recreational directors, who are graduates of Radford College, will be at the camp all summer to direct the recreational activities.

Not forgetting the development of the Heart, a Vespers Worship Service is held each evening just at dusk on the little hill almost surrounded by water at the northeast corner of the camp. The Spirit of Worship as the campers enter this setting contrasts so sharply with the joyful hum of the rest of the day, that you can't help but feel the nearness of a Divine God and the Spirit of Fellowship.

Offered at these 4-H Camps for boys and girls are various classes in Soil and Wildlife Conservation, ways for better Homemaking, handicrafts of various sorts, classes in swimming, a spirit of campanionship and living, working and playing together to make a better world.

In addition to the following District Camps, the 1950 schedule at Holliday Lake 4-H Club Camp will include two state-wide groups, the State Conservation Camp and the State Forestry Camp:

June 19-24: Pittsylvania, Halifax, Charlotte Counties.
July 3-8: Patrick, Henry, Franklin Counties.
July 10-15: Amherst, Cumberland, Appomattox, Buckingham, Prince Edward Counties.
July 17-22: Bedford, Fluvanna, Goochland Counties.
July 24-28: Campbell, Botetourt, Nelson Counties.
August 7-12: Orange, Madison, Culpeper, Greene, Louisa Counties.

Parents and friends of club members are always welcome to visit the camp while the members are there. Friday night is visiting night and visitors come each year on that night to observe the traditional candle-lighting ceremony.

Assistant County Agent

Active pallbearers were: Isaac Lewis, Dillard Reed, Joseph Lewis and Douglas Doss.

The post office at Appomattox is slated to become a first class office as of July 1, moving up from the second class rank held since 1937. The change was made possible by the volume of receipts here during the past calendar year. Offices during more than $40,000 in receipts moving up to first class.

The new rating will not affect the patrons of the office, but will make possible some pay raises for personnel and qualify Appomattox for eventual construction of a post office building.

When E. LeRoy Smith became postmaster here in 1934, Appomattox was a third class office. Due to increased receipts, it was moved up to a second class office in 1937, and now goes first class. If receipts in a calendar year fall below $40,000, it will move back to second class.
